Huguenot Settlements outside London

Although very much smaller than the London Huguenot settlement, there were settlements elsewhere in England and in Scotland, Ireland and the Channel Islands. The Huguenot Society has transcribed and published the surviving church registers of these settlements in the Quarto Series, as follows. All these volumes have been digitized and are available for purchase as CD-ROMs: see <http://huguenotsociety.org.uk/publications.html>.

England:

Norwich	Vol 1	Bristol	Vol 20
Southampton	Vol 4	Plymouth	Vol 20
Canterbury	Vol 5	Stonehouse (Plymouth)	Vol 20
Thorney (Cambridgeshire)	Vol 17	Thorpe-le-Soken (Essex)	Vol 20

Ireland:

St Patrick and St Mary Dublin	Vol 7
Nonconformist Dublin	Vol 14
Portarlinton	Vol 19
Huguenot Pensioners in England and Ireland	Vol 41

A transcription of the privately printed register of the Dover church is in the Huguenot Library, and forms part of CD-ROM 10.

For the other settlements, some idea of their members, size and makeup has been gleaned from the Royal Bounty records and from local and national records, e.g. tax returns, port books and legal documents. The following list of publications may also be helpful.

Channel Islands:

Scotland:

Although some Huguenots went to Scotland, especially to Edinburgh, only one settlement is known to have left detailed evidence of its short existence: Picardie Village in Edinburgh. For that see:
